

ACTIVITY

Ganesha Around the World

INTERVIEW WITH YOUR WHOLE WORLD

Ganesha describes his parents as the whole world. Is there anyone who you would also describe as your whole world?

In this activity you will interview this person about their childhood, family traditions, or celebrations.

DURATION

3–4 hours

PROCEDURE

- ① Contact the person you would like to interview. Ask for their permission to be interviewed about their life. Also, coordinate when and how you will conduct the interview: in-person, over the phone, through video chat, etc.
- ② Read over possible questions. You must ask the first question. Then, select six or eight questions that you want to ask and organize questions in an order that makes the most sense to you. (Tip: It's best practice to ask questions that follow a person's timeline chronologically, from their childhood to the present.)
- ③ When the time of the interview comes, ask your questions. Be sure to take notes during the interview for future reference.
- ④ When the interview ends, thank the person you interviewed.
- ⑤ On the same day as the interview or the next, write a summary of your interview and reflect on what you learned about the person, yourself, your family, or your community.
